

Wings Of A Dove

Alexz Johnson

Wake up with a cage around me
My heart is in a knot
My lashes getting caught
It's fake, I hate you
For everything you did
The fight we never fought

There's a storm raging inside
And I'm trying to calm it down
Sometimes I get the upper hand
This time I hit the ground
Pulling back the pieces
That are shattered since your love
It's like stitching the feathers
Back on the wings of a dove

Shake it off, denial
Everyone can tell this girl's not doing well
Get up, oh, get going
See leaving you was easy
But missing you is hell

There's a storm raging inside
And I'm trying to calm it down
Sometimes I get the upper hand
This time I hit the ground
Pulling back the pieces
That are shattered since your love
It's like stitching the feathers
Back on the wings of a dove
Oh

And I know this is my mess
And I know I should've let 'em go
And I showed it's a joke
But I choke when trying to laugh
Ahh, I don't know

There's a storm raging inside
And I'm trying to calm it down
Sometimes I get the upper hand
This time I hit the ground
Pulling back the pieces
That are shattered since your love
It's like stitching the feathers
Back on the wings of a dove

Part of me won't give up
Wants to turn back the clock
Part of you is still caught
Through the seams of my heart
Part of me can't believe
That I'm losing control
Part of you let's me know
That I'm ready to go

There's a storm raging inside

And I'm trying to calm it down
Sometimes I get the upper hand
This time I hit the ground
Pulling back the pieces
That are shattered since your love
It's like stitching the feathers
Back on the wings of a dove
