

Broken

Alfie Templeman

(Sometimes I think that I might be broken)
(Don't you feel like you're broken?)

I say all the wrong things
Get up in the evening
I check that I'm breathing, you never know these days
My body is empty
My mind just a window
From hero to zero, over bits of glass

Life ain't got a manual
It came without instructions and (yeah)
Things don't ever go as planned

Sometimes I think that I might be broken
Don't you feel like you're broken?
I can't read the signs and some things they just go unspoken
But don't you feel like you're broken?

I feel so pathetic
I'm not energetic
Perhaps it's genetic?
It's so puzzling
Now I'm no detective
But from my perspective
I look out of order
I'm malfunctioning

Life ain't got a manual
It came without instructions and (yeah)
Things don't ever go as planned

Sometimes I think that I might be broken
Don't you feel like you're broken?
I can't read the signs and some things they just go unspoken
But don't you feel like you're broken?

I don't know what to do
I wanna work with you (baby)
Wanna be brand new
Wanna feel amazing
But sometimes I think that I might be broken
Don't you feel like you're broken?

Sometimes I think that I might be broken
Don't you feel like you're broken?
I can't read the signs and some things they just go unspoken
But don't you feel like you're broken?

I don't know what to do
I wanna work with you (baby)
Wanna be brand new
Wanna feel amazing
But sometimes I think that I might be broken
Don't you feel like you're broken?
