

Leaving Today

Alfie Templeman

Ever since I got that strangest feeling
I've been finding back the time you stole
Wasted days that I could've spent healing
Leave the emptiness down in my soul

Everything I used to be is fading
Far away into that distant time
Now that I forgive myself for changing
I can learn to find some peace of mind
Find some peace of mind

Just sit back with the sun on my face
'Cause I can't give my whole life away
And you're tearing my heart when you say
That you're leaving today (You're leaving)

So sit back with the sun on my face
'Cause I can't find the meaning again
And you're tearing my heart when you say
That you're leaving today

It's alright now I've seen the light
I'll be leaving here tonight

Just sit back with the sun on my face
'Cause I can't give my whole life away
And you're tearing my heart when you say
That you're leaving today

So sit back with the sun on my face
'Cause I can't find the meaning again
And you're tearing my heart when you say
That you're leaving today
