

Wait For the Sound

Algiers

The streets are raining fire
We'll be gone now any day
Oh baby, oh baby
In the hour where we all fall, oh
Yeah, we don't have to be afraid
Oh baby, oh baby

Ancient armies are all reforming
True or false annihilation
Oh baby
I wanna come back, wanna come back
Into the eyes where I was saved
Oh baby, mmh

The streets are raining fire
We're too old to run away
Oh baby, oh baby
Angel eyes see you through the fire
But she holds you there in her gaze
Oh baby, oh baby

'Fore when the sky go black in the morning
And the silence finally breaks
Oh baby
I wanna come back, wanna come back
Into the eyes where I was saved
Oh baby

And we're waiting for the sound
We're just waiting for the sound
And we're waiting for the sound

She turned away (they aren't what they say)
She turned away (they aren't what they say)
And the unbroken curve that surrounds us
It tried to win us up
I still don't wanna know how we lost it
Hey (they aren't what they say)
She turned away (they aren't what they say)
She turned away (they aren't what they say)

We're gonna spiral out
Alone while we wait for the sound
