wake up one morning
and you got no tea
little one, little one you're so sorry to me but that's nobody's business but my own the other day comes and it happens again don't think that I am gonna feel ashame
that's nobody's business but my own

so you better
leave my business
you better
leave my business
you better
leave my business but you mind your own

if I get high and fly like bird you should never say a word that's nobody's business but my own if you drink rum and tumble down you're gonna always get your fun that's nobody's business but your own

you better
leave my business
you better

if I get high and fly like bird you should never say a word that's nobody's business but my own if you drink rum and tumble down you're gonna always get your fun that's nobody's business but your own

you better
leave my business
you better
leave my business but you mind your own
