

Mania

Alice Merton

Ooh, ah, mmh, ah
Ooh, ah, mmh, ah

Hold my breath just to disappear
Maybe you'll start letting go of the mess that was left behind
Hope you don't reappear
In the rear view mirror that I keep in the back of my mind

Cold eyes still stare at me
'Cause I see you when I'm sleeping
And I'm dreaming that it ended fine
Don't like the simplicity
That you let me go easy
Was it easy for you every time?

Silver lines ain't saving you
I've entered the mania
I'm a lie
Silver lines ain't saving you
I've entered the mania
I'm a lie

I wanna embrace, -brace the mania
I'm gonna taste, taste the mania

Your words still burden me
Like a stain in my jacket
I tried, but I just can't get out
Don't you remember me?
Like a child, I still held on to you
Fill me up with your doubt

Cold eyes still stare at me
'Cause I see you when I'm sleeping
And I'm dreaming that it ended fine
Don't like your sincerity
'Cause you fake it and I see you
And you hide behind empty white lines

Silver lines ain't saving you
I've entered the mania
I'm a lie
Silver lines ain't saving you
I've entered the mania
I'm a lie

I wanna embrace, -brace the mania
I'm gonna taste, taste the mania

Silver lines ain't saving you
I've entered the mania
I'm not fine
