

Same Team

Alice Merton

I broke all our promises
And I evened out the score
Then I took a plane to Mexico
So you couldn't find me anymore
And I hurt you and your feelings
And I broke all the things we loved
And I couldn't face the pain again
I couldn't face what we lost

And now I've gone to stranger places
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't take it back
Turn round, to the way things were before
No I just can't, I just can't
Promise you all of the future
Cause the future's now torn
And we're running up a mountain
To get blown back by the storm
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't

I took all your money
And bought a mansion by the shore
Oh I took away your confidence
So that you would feel so insecure
But I still miss those night walks
Were they ever real?
Was it all in my head?
All the things I feel

And now I've gone to stranger places
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't take it back
Turn round, to the way things were before
No I just can't, I just can't promise you
All of the future
Cause the future's now torn
And we're running up a mountain
To get blown back by the storm
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't

I just can't I just can't
I just can't I just can't
I just can't I just can't
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't take it back
Turn round, to the way things were before
No I just can't, I just can't
We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't take it back
Turn round, to the way things were before
No I just can't, I just can't promise you
All of the future
Cause the future's now torn
And we're running up a mountain
To get blown back by the storm

We're not two sides of the same team anymore
No I just can't, I just can't
