

Dusk

Alice Phoebe Lou

Oh, she told me
She gets lonely
When the sky changes from day to night
That's when her demons come say hey
Dusk is always harder for my baby

So I told her
Not to be afraid
That I'd think of her at that time of day
So I think about when her eyes light up
I think about when her eyes light up the world
The whole wide world
But the world don't matter
When we're looking at each other

Oh, she's got this way of making you feel like
You've lived a thousand times and never gonna die
And she shines illuminated by the strobe light
She smiles and everything will be alright
In the world
The whole wide world
But the world don't matter
When we're looking at each other

But the world don't matter
When we're looking at each other
