Drinking Song Interlude

Alice Russell

I'm gonna take a little sip and drink it down this thing I feel I'll touch you now When I hit your head change everything my influence Fall to the ground

Time and time again Your love falls from above Twice and twice again For another one

But you're all the way my heart My heart just froze away Then I slip and tumble Unto the eyes

I'm gonna take a little sip and drink it down this thing I feel I'll touch you now When I hit your head change everything my influence Fall to the ground