

Lost Without You

Alive Like Me

I'm out of places to run
My hands are tied behind my back can I bring myself back to life
Tonight got away from me
Tonight got away from me

So I'll relapse replay the mistakes I have made over and over I wish that I could have changed What happened next
What happened next you won't believe

She lit the match to start the flame left me to bleed
I really would have given her my everything
But all along she always wanted more I guess attention is just something that she can't ignore

What the hell was that supposed to prove?
You couldn't tell me what I already knew
I can't believe I ever played this game
That's all it ever was to you
Are you even listening [x2]
I can't believe I ever played this game
And that's all it ever was to you [x2]
And that's all I ever was to you

I miss the fire that we had Can't you see [x2]
That there's always something wrong but you just keep stringing me along you just keep stringing me along

What the hell was that supposed to prove?
You couldn't tell me what I already knew
I can't believe I ever played this game
That's all it ever was to you
Are you even listening [x2]
I can't believe I ever played this game
and that's all it ever was to you [x2]
And that's all I ever was to you

I watched you make your way across the floor
You took his hand and headed for the door you got me thinking am I lost with you or without you?
I hope you make it back to the room and when you look into his eyes there is a moment that you realize you're lost without me (Lost without me)

I watched you make your way across the floor
You took his hand and headed for the door
I am lost without you
I hope you make it back to
the room and when you look into his eyes
there is a moment that you realize
you're lost without me

I 'm out of places to run
my hands are tied behind my back can I
bring myself back to life
Tonight got away from me
Tonight got away from me

What the hell was that supposed to prove?
You couldn't tell me what I already knew
I can't believe I ever played this game
That's all it ever was to you
Are you even listening [x2]
I can't believe I ever played this game
