

Kick Rocks

Alkaline Trio

You take these sticks and stones and apply what you have learned but you ain't got no water so you let that motherfucker burn

Yea it smoked up and it burned out Like a graduation bonfire two miles from your house and you had nowhere to go, so you came right back here I couldn't find what you wanted, so you slapped me in the face and spilled my beer and when the mess dried up you came up singing,

Let us drink from the hourglass
We can make time stop
Watch from the window upstairs
While they all kick rocks and I miss smoking in the fall and pissin' on that gas station wall What's a law? What's a fire? What's a river?

We jumped over them all but I guess my legs got tired and my teeth got long

So take a sip from the hourglass
We can make time stop
Watch from the window upstairs
While they all kick rocks

I tried to write you a passage but you're holdin' out for the flick Wait outside by the exit When they don't let you in

So we can drink from the hourglass
We can make time stop
Watch from the window upstairs
While they all kick rocks
