

Run

All For Metal

Run run better run run better run
Run run better run run better run

Destiny on the red horizon
Hunters gather for the feast
Spread the word they have come to chase you
Kill the demon, kill the beast

Watch them now as you creep in silence
Close enough to smell their fear
Flames reflect in your sharpened eyes as
You get ready, you're still here

Make fright your companion
And clouds steal the light
You won't be abandoned tonight

Run run better run run better run
Find a hideout in the shadows
Run run better run run better run
Feel the fear let it make you strong
Run run better run run better run
Across the fields and meadows
Here they come
The race is on
You better run
Run run better run run better run

Still alive they will never get you
Nobody will hunt you down
You're the king of this ancient forest
No intruder's safe and sound

Make fright your companion
And clouds steal the light
The race is gonna end here tonight

Run run better run run better run
Find a hideout in the shadows
Run run better run run better run
Feel the fear let it make you strong
Run run better run run better run
Across the fields and meadows
Here they come
The race is on
You better run
Run run better run run better run

Make fright your companion
And clouds steal the light
You won't be abandoned tonight

Run run better run run better run
Find a hideout in the shadows
Run run better run run better run
Feel the fear let it make you strong
Run run better run run better run

Across the fields and meadows
Here they come
The race is on
You better run
Run run better run run better run
Run run better run run better run
Run run better run run better run
