

Break Through This Wall

All Good Things

Come now or never, we're all here waiting
Come with everything you have but don't be mistaken
We are the fight, don't care who is right we-
Only know who's left behind and who will be taken

One day you're gonna lie there dead in your grave
They're gonna say that you never did enough
You'll never play in the big leagues
Never compare to me, you'll never be a warrior
You're gonna fall to your knees
And the more that you bleed, you get weak and it's all over
You never could compete
You will never compare to me, you'll never be a warrior

Try to tear us down, we'll rise back up
We're higher now, your will, your weapon's not enough
We stand as one, prepare to fall
Yeah you can try but you can't break through this wall

Come as you are, come ready or not
Your promise of a victory is turning to ashes
All those who follow will leave you tomorrow
Running from the battle as they're burning and crashing

One day you're gonna lie there dead in your grave
They're gonna say that you never did enough
You'll never play in the big leagues
Never compare to me, you'll never be a warrior
You're gonna fall to your knees
And the more that you bleed, you get weak and it's all over
You never could compete
You will never compare to me, you'll never be a warrior

Try to tear us down, we'll rise back up
We're higher now, your will, your weapon's not enough
We stand as one, prepare to fall
Yeah you can try but you can't break through this wall
Tear us down, we'll rise back up
We're higher now, your will, your weapon's not enough
We stand as one, prepare to fall
Yeah you can try but you can't break through this wall

You - you can't break through this wall
You can't break through this
You can't break through this
You can't break through this wall
You will never be a warrior
No, you will never be a warrior

Try to tear us down, we'll rise back up
We're higher now, your will, your weapon's not enough
We stand as one, prepare to fall
Yeah you can try but you can't break through this wall
Tear us down, we'll rise back up
We're higher now, your will, your weapon's not enough
We stand as one, prepare to fall
Yeah you can try but you can't break through this
