

If we were invincible
If we could never die
Then all the world could rise against us
And we'd dare to fight

Caught myself before I fall
I see through all the reasons we are letting go
Even if this day won't come
I'll burn a thousand moons just to light a single sun

And now the darkest hour collides
With our unguarded lives

If we were invincible
If we could never die
Then all the world could rise against us
And we'd dare to fight
Dare to fight
Nothing left to fear
We could never fall
So alive head full of fire
We'd be invincible

This storm up there it knows my name
It calls from a sea of light
When the soldiers look away
And now we stand at heaven's door
But we're just mortals
Can we face another war?

And now the darkest hour collides
With our unguarded lives

If we were invincible
If we could never die
Then all the world could rise against us
And we'd dare to fight
Dare to fight
We could never fall
So alive head full of fire
We'd be invincible
