

Kingdom

All Good Things

(This is our kingdom)
Shoulder to shoulder the sons and the daughters
(This is our castle)
Our bones are the bricks and our blood is the mortar
(This is our house)
Watch your step and pay your respect as you're crossing the border
(This is our battle)
Just realize you're the lamb to the slaughter

(This is our)
Towers above
The people we love
Have fallen around us

Slowly we choke
On all of the smoke
That's rising to drown us

(This is our)
It's hotter than hell
We've emptied the well
We're melting together
But we will survive, solidified, we'll never surrender

All hail to the kings and queens
In a city of broken dreams
We're the last of the royalty
So bow down and get on your knees

This is our kingdom
It's our castle
We'll bring a million
To the battle

This is our throne
This is our home

This is our kingdom
And remember
Til our last breath
We'll defend her
This our throne
This is our home

Welcome to the kingdom

Lights blinding our eyes
We're fueling the fire
The known and the nameless
The homeless, the famous
All trying to get higher

And if every wall
Will crumble and fall
And cave from the pressure

We'll build up again

We're here till the end
We can do this forever

All hail to the kings and queens
In a city of broken dreams
We're the last of the royalty
So bow down and get on your knees

This is our kingdom
It's our castle
We'll bring a million
To the battle
This is our throne
This is our home

This is our kingdom
And remember
Til our last breath
We'll defend her
This is our throne
This is our home

Welcome to the kingdom

Welcome to the kingdom

Welcome to the kingdom

All hail to the kings and queens
In a city of broken dreams
We're the last of the royalty
So bow down and get on your knees

This is our kingdom
It's our castle
We'll bring a million
To the battle
This is our throne
This is our home

This is our kingdom
And remember
Til our last breath
We'll defend her
This is our throne
This is our home

Welcome to the kingdom

It's our castle
We'll bring a million
To the battle
This is our throne
This is our home

This is our kingdom
And remember
Til our last breath
We'll defend her
This is our throne
This is our home
