

Push Me Down

All Good Things

Break me
That's what you want
Don't say that it's not
You're trying to erase me
You planned the attack
The stab in the back
But you'll never replace me

You think I'm unstable
You call me a failure
Don't give me a label
Won't die cause you say so
Keep your wings and your halo

Promised me the world and all you can't buy
Fed me every drug to keep me high
You built me up until I broke the blue sky
You almost had me thinking I could fly

You can push me down
But I won't stay down forever
You can knock me out
But I've never been one to give up
I'm not afraid to taste blood

You can push me down
You can take my breath for a minute
I can dig it up from inside
It's time to take back my life
It's time to take you down

I've chased it
So close I could taste it
Blood on my lip
But I'd never replace this

The look on their faces
The truth will come out
I'll force them to face it

The anticipation
It's almost my turn
But I'm losing my patience
I'm breaking the cages
No more limitations

Promised me the world and all you can't buy
Fed me every drug to keep me high
You built me up until I broke the blue sky
You almost had me thinking I could fly

You can push me down
But I won't stay down forever
But I've never been one to give up

You can push me down
You can take my breath for a minute
It's time to take back my life

You can push me down
But I won't stay down
You can push me down
But I won't stay down
You can push me down
I won't stay down
You can push me down

You can push me down
But I won't stay down forever
You can knock me out
But I've never been one to give up
I'm not afraid to taste blood

You can push me down
You can take my breath for a minute
It's time to take back my life
It's time to take you down

You can push me down
You can push me down
You can push me down
You can push me
