

One Strike

All Saints

Stone cold
You wake me when the phone vibrates
Your voice sounds dulled, but loud enough to hear you
Distant, echoes of my heart unbreak
Silently now, I'm waiting for this storm to calm
I'm waiting for this this storm to calm
Listen to you load that gun
I'm waiting for this phone to come

And with one strike
My world lights up a fire
Call it a sign
Don't need hindsight
I'll make my emotions clear
And then disappear
With one strike
Mmm, one strike

Shattered, pieces of your words take aim
Your poisoned tongue
But I don't want to believe you
Torn up, stitches of my own heart ache
Violently numb, I'm ready for this storm to calm
I'm ready for the storm to calm
Listen to you load that gun
I'm ready for the storm calm

And with one strike
My world lights up a fire
Call it a sign
Don't need hindsight
I'll make my emotions clear
And then disappear
And with one strike
My world lights up a fire
Call it a sign
And with one strike
Mmm, one strike
With one strike
With one strike
One strike
With one strike
With one strike

I don't want to stay, time to go
I don't want to be in this home
Broken promises, time to leave
I had everything that you needed
I don't want to stay, time to go
I don't want to be in this home
Broken promises, time to leave
I had everything that you needed

And with one strike
My world lights up a fire
Call it a sign
Don't need hindsight

I'll make my emotions clear
And then disappear
And with one strike
Mmm, one strike

Oh-oh
Why'd you go lie
Oh-oh
Why, oh, why
Oh-oh
Watch you go by
Oh-oh
My, oh, my
