

Tribal

All Saints

One love...

With my eyes wide open
I can see more clearly
Cause my heart was captured
By the love she gave me
We are one year older
And we speak more freely
As the world's still turning
Our words run deeply-ly-ly...

Blinded by your light, sunburn to my eyes
Guided by your noise, heart speak through the night

Blinded again and all for life, yeah

One love, one love, one love, tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
Your love, your love, your love eh eh eh

Na na na na na yeah
Na na na na na yeah eh eh eh...

When the world seems empty
You will have my shoulder
And always remember
You are someone's daughter
Join me on this journey
Like a dancing soldier
On the road to freedom
Coming home to hold ya-ya-ya

Blinded by your light, sunburn to my eyes
Guided by your noise, heart speak through the night, yeah

Blinded again and all for life, yeah

One love, one love, one love, tribal
One love, one love, one love, tribal
Your love, your love, your love, tribal
Your love, your love, your love is tribal
One love, one love, one love is tribal
Your love, your love, your love eh eh eh

Na na na na na yeah
Na na na na na yeah eh eh eh...

One love, one love, one love, one love, one love
Love, love, love, love
One love, one love, one love, one love, one love
Love, love, love, love
