

Pretty Famous

All Star United

I love her for the hope she gives
That perfect girls still exists
If LA's defined as a state of mind
Just let the fantasy persist

She pretty, pretty famous
She's so bad and she's so good
She's so ha ha Hollywood
If we fall in love, well who could blame us?
She's pretty, pretty famous

As I'm drifting off to sleep
She flickers on my TV screen
Making the news with her political views
But the only thing that matters to me

They say that she's a hopeless dream
And that's alright with me
Cause I'm ADD for celebrity
I wonder who I'll love next week?
