Not Alone

All That Remains

No more

No more are the days that I will Fear for I have found a strength that None can match and I'll push forward

Never has the blood in my veins Flowed so fiercely as when I feel This around me, I am whole

I'm not alone With the touch of your hand I am whole again

I'm not alone With the touch of your hand I am whole again

Now I feel the passion burning This what drives me further strengthens My resolve to push me further

(And I believe, that I am not alone) I'm not alone

I'm not alone With the touch of your hand I am whole again

I'm not alone With the touch of your hand I am whole again

No more are the days that I will Fear for I have found a strength that None can match and I'll push forward

Now I feel the passion burning This what drives me further strengthens My resolve to push me further

I'm not alone (I'm not alone) With the touch of your hand I am whole again

I'm not alone
(I'm not alone)
With the touch of your hand
I am whole again

I am whole again I am whole again
