

Cinderblock Garden

All Time Low

Oh oh ohohoh...
The girl with the cinderblock garden
Oh oh ohohoh...
The girl with the cinderblock garden

Wait,
I think we're onto something,
We can't run from fate,
But we can let it take us down,
Down this road,
Where all our colors run together,
Let's take the worst and make it better,
Let's take this mess and make a home

I know it gets hard for you to stay,
But do you really want to throw it all away?
I'm thinkin'

That we could make forever after all,
Finding the gold in our darkest moments,
Watching the roads turning into white roses, roses,
And we don't ever have to leave these walls,
I'll be the boy with the silver lining,
You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh oh ohohoh...
The girl with the cinderblock garden
Oh oh ohohoh...
The girl with the cinderblock garden

Tonight,
Take all the ghosts and all those skeletons,
You hide (You hide)
Bury them deep beneath the ground,
Let them rest (Let them rest)
'Cause you weren't meant to bear that burden,
Look at the roses in your garden,
You can breathe now and forget

Forget it gets hard for you to stay,
But we don't really have to throw it all away
I'm thinkin'

That we could make forever after all,
Finding the gold in our darkest moments,
Watching the roads turning into white roses, roses,
And we don't ever have to leave these walls,
I'll be the boy with the silver lining,
You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden

Just hold out for tomorrow,
Our dreams will follow,
Follow us back to when,
When nothing was broken,
The future was open,
Let's go back again,
Let's go again...

That we could make forever after all,
Finding the gold in our darkest moments,
Watching the roads turning into white roses, roses,
And we don't ever have to leave these walls,
I'll be the boy with the silver lining,
You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh oh ohohoh...

The girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh oh ohohoh...

The girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh oh ohohoh...

The girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh oh ohohoh...

The girl with the cinderblock garden
