

What are you trying to fix me for?
Maybe I'm broken but I'm not sure
Am I depressed or am I just bored?
Apathy and irony, post modern anxiety

Time to face up to the inevitable
I guess I might be losing it from staying at home
I dumb it down to jeopardy and late night TV
(And I don't even like it)
Safe to say I know I'm not the only one
And I don't have time for all this time I've wasted

What are you trying to fix me for?
Maybe I'm broken but I'm not sure
Am I depressed or am I just bored?
Apathy and irony, post modern anxiety
Tell me you're okay, yeah what's that like?
Rose tinted glasses, that must be nice
Doing your best while you die inside
Apathy and irony, post modern anxiety
(Apathy and irony, post modern anxiety)

I don't mind the fireworks to keep me awake
(But they still kinda scare me)
I don't think the melatonin works at all
My money plant's dying and the dust is collecting
(And my therapist hates me)
It's Monday morning sleeping through the wake up call

What are you trying to fix me for?
Maybe I'm broken but I'm not sure
Am I depressed or am I just bored?

Time to face up to the inevitable
(All the world was sleeping)
I guess it feels good to know that I'm not alone
