

The Weather

All Time Low

We used to sit and watch the waves break over Rockaway
I never thought that I'd crash out and watch you walk away
I tried to love you but I lost you, baby, I'm down bad
Hard to admit you were the best time that I ever had

Ooh, life goes on
The world keeps turning around
And our moment in the sun
It feels a little colder now

When I see you around
I don't wanna talk about the weather
And I heard you're doing better
Moved in with some asshole from God knows wherever
So we talk about the weather
When I see you around

Now I'm a ghost around this town, and you're a phantom limb
I feel you everywhere I go, rent-free under my skin
You're like the heartbeat of this city, babe, we're all just living in
And I'm still listening

And when I see you around
I don't wanna talk about the weather
And I heard you're doing better
Moved in with some asshole from God knows wherever
So we talk about the weather
When I see you around

When I see you around (When I see you around)
I don't wanna talk about the weather
And you don't ask about the band
And I won't ask you how you've been
'Cause we might just fall back in
So we talk about the weather

When I see you around (When I see you around)
I don't wanna talk about the weather (Oh)
Yeah, I heard you're doing better
Moved in with some asshole from God knows wherever
So we talk about the weather
When I see you around

When I see you around
