

Pattern

Allah-Las

Just like a pattern
Starts to appear
So I am realized each time
We end up here
And though the message
Was written in the stars
It's not so easy to decipher
From afar

Now we go headlong into darkness before us
Know not the bearing that will prove
Carry us safely through tomorrow, the sorrow
Carry me safely back to you

The muffled murmur of
Stone colored sea
Tells all the secrets of the land
That used to be
The softer persistence of
The driving rain
Is all this different now
Or are we just the same?

Still we go headlong into darkness before us
Just cut the cord and walk away
Only regarding what inside you, beside you
Just leave the rest along the way

Just like a pattern
Starts to appear
So I am realized each time
We end up here
