

Bye Bye Blondie

Allan Rayman

Bye bye blondie
You cut your hair again it's new and ugly

Bye bye blondie
You cut your hair again it's new and ugly
That's what you wanted so you can hide from me
I'm still the wolf outside your door
I'm still a filthy little whore
I don't do well on my own
Thanks for asking I'm home
Thought you'd come on and find me and rattle my bones

Bye bye blondie
It was nice to know you, hope it's warm and sunny in California
Cause when I come running
I'm gunning for you
I'm looking for you
I've never felt so self-assured

Bye bye blondie
You cut your hair again it's new and ugly
That's what you wanted so you can hide from me
I'm still the wolf outside your door
I'm still a filthy little whore
I don't do well on my own
Thanks for asking I'm home
Thought you'd come on and find me and rattle my bones

When you ache and you moan
Turn me back into stone
You just need to remind me
Bye bye blondie
Bye bye blondie
Bye bye blondie
Bye bye blondie
Bye bye blondie
