

Alright one more for the outro
Too hot to sleep, 4am in Lewisham
A long way from home but it don't matter where do it from
No stories bout my ex tho, even tho she viewing them
Nothing for enemies, I got one or two of them
Had to be a beast to end up with all this beauty and
She must have skipped lunch cause she sucking out my nutrients
Living at the stu again, in my mood again (gra)
I feel super in this suit again
Like I'm in my bedroom stealing beats from flume again
Don't play football but I do run with hooligans
Studied the great's blueprints, zooming in
It's everything you need without paying for tuition
Just buy a t-shirt when the tour comes thru again
A couple times I nearly threw it in Breaking up the band the lead singer always ruins things
His lifestyle makes me scared we might be losing him
Pardon me, I'm just having a lil moment
I know luck can turn quick like Phil Foden
Maybe I hide behind the grind for goals that feel close then
Always disappear when I finally approach them
Maybe I should to learn to feel emotions
Instead of all these pills and potions
And maybe I'm a lil broken
Feel like I'm just going thru the motions
With this girl that used to dodge me, see her now flustered
Showing me her brand new titties like now touch it
I'm down fuck it, not in town much guess
I never was one for staying around comfort
Curfew I was always sneaking out past it
Used to hustle backwards, now I count upwards
Feel like tyson after 12 rounds of punches
I need my belt, and my crown - encrusted
