

Rhythms

Allday

First saw you in the kitchen
Floating like a big star
Something in my system
Something on your tongue

I hear you're on a mission
They said you're going real far
And when you make the distance
It's only space junk, up there and

And I don't really know where you are right now
This is how it feels when we both come down
Stop holding back it will all come out
Stop holding back yeah

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me

We were babies dancing
In the corner of the gym
With all my worries vanquished
Pressed against your skin

Really rare not diamond rings
More like an LA thunderstorm
It's raining like the end of days
When I get to your door

And I don't really know where you are right now
This is how it feels when we both come down
Stop holding back it will all come out
Stop holding back yeah

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me

Now I'm thinking what
What if I left you?
Are you waking up in a stranger's bedroom now?

Now I'm thinking what
What if I left you?
Are you waking up in a stranger's bedroom now?

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me

We move to different rhythms
It's hard to make decisions
I see you drowning in the LED
And I can tell you feel the same as me
