

Somewhere Faraway

Allday

Chubby

Dance to rock and roll with your mother in a run down place in the forest
Yes sir, Dance to rock and roll with your father in a run down place in the forest

And I say, I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know
I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know

Uh, wake up in the morning got to thank god
I got a pretty blonde girl in a tank top
And she'll do almost anything to please me
She's fine but I swear my love's blind like stevie
And I party with my friends while the suns up
And we haven't slept yet, nah, my eyes can't shut
I listen to the cure tryna' find one
Thinking about the worst shit that I've done
And she just wanna fuck with the lights on
And I just wanna become an icon
But those who aren't here- we cry for 'em
Best thing to do is live a good life for 'em
I do it coz my mum needs a holiday
Trying to get her god damn mortgage paid
And maybe get myself in the hall of fame
I keep rolling the dice, it'll roll 'em away

Dance to rock and roll with your mother in a run down place in the forest
Uhhuh, Dance to rock and roll with your father in a run down place in the forest

And I say, I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know
That I know, I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know

You may call me crazy but some say
You need a few nuts to make a sundae
I don't have two chains, I don't have one chain
I just wanna live the good life like Kanye
And I'm so damn close I can feel the lights
Beaming down on me, peoples eyes
Fuck the fame, I just want a fonder life
But I'm so far away from my mums advice
She said I treat girls like commodities
So now I treat my girl to a lot of things
Now I treat myself to a little grin
Every time I get a little wind in my brittle wings
I do it coz my Vans need replacing
I do it coz my fans keep relating
I do it for the neighbourhood kids
Good kids in a place where nothing good lives

Dance to rock and roll with your mother in a run down place in the forest
Dance to rock and roll with your father in a run down place in the forest
And I say, I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know
I could take you to somewhere faraway that I know
