

Too Late

Allday

Oh
Yeah

If I'm being honest, she was hotter than the sun
Using them Bambi eyes to get just what she want
Thought we had chemistry but she could not agree
Met her on Saturday, we didn't last the week, you see
She was from other side, electric gate, A/C ice
Acting cold, in my ride, yes, it's old, but it drives
She said this was a mistake, got no head, just headache
Ain't it funny how it goes? (Yeah, yeah)

'Cause it's late at night, what's this number?
The princess type, but I don't want her
I can't find my shining armour
It won't be I
Now she went and left it too late (Too late)
It was only one or two dates
And she said I wasn't too great (Too great)
So why she calling me today?
And now she went and left it too late

If I'm being honest, she was hotter than a sin
But really, I need her like a hard kick in the shin
Sipping on green juice by the pool in her backyard
She drowning in her dreams, I don't know CPR
Out the blue, my phone just ring
It's too late for "How you been"
Talking 'bout unfinished business
Hope you got a cheque for me
Arabella, wish you wella
There will be some other fella
Who gone give you the world, babe

'Cause it's late at night, what's this number?
The princess type, but I don't want her
Can't find my shining armour
It won't be I (Yeah)
Now she went and left it too late (Too late)
It was only one or two dates
And she said I wasn't too great (Too great)
So why she calling me today?
And now she went and left it too late

Too late
Now she went and left it too late, too late
Now I gotta tell her, too late, too late
Find somebody else, it's too late, too late, too late
