Accelerated Evolution

Allegaeon

Chromosomes X and Y, divide and multiply Constant revolving D.N.A. Adapting to stimuli through vibrations of nuclei Until humanity dies away

So now break it down into the finite compounds

Who could foresee when we crawled from the ocean Those who could stand upon these shores? We evolve from primate to man From man to gods, from gods to dust

Uncharted growth breeds in us new hope Our phenotypic divergence Genomes in mutation sparks a revelation Beginnings of a species convergence

See this double helix rise like a phoenix From these ashes
Of humanities flaws

So if they want to pit us against survival of the fittest To see how we will make it through To survive with distinction a species hell-bent on extinction If only Darwin knew
