

The Secular Age

Allegaeon

Disinformation scares us Impropriety thickens and clouds the air Arrogance presents itself Unbidden and creating despair

Dogmatic achievements tearing Myths and monuments apart at the seams
Under the veil of wonder and terror Forcing the masses to make believe

No room for speculation
Those left behind beg for salvation

failure to grow failure to swallow the truth of it all to force the foyer open and enter an age of gold intrepid and measured steps that prove to go in no direction at all still water before the tempest hubris before the fall

Information era methods developed to cross compare evidence presents itself once hidden origins laying bare

Systemic beliefs that bound us disintegrate after thousands of years Free from the reins of wonder and terror
What once was concrete now vanishes into the air

No room for speculation

patience to grow patience to swallow the truth of it all
to force the foyer open
that prove to go in all directions at once still water absorbs the tempest progress forgets the fall
To come so far in so little time
Is what once may have been called Despicable

To come so far in so little time
In which now is called A miracle

Where do we go?
Now that we've swallowed the truth of it all and moved forward We've forced the foyer open and entered an age of gold

Have taken us in all directions at once still water absorbed the tempest Perseverance will conquer all
