

Lady of Winter

Allen-Lande

Captured in a frozen smile
Snowflakes in the wind
She is cold as ice within

Winterborn December child
Do you ever dream of spring?
When the birds begin to sing

Silver moon in the sky
Lonely witness to her silent cry

Lady of winter
I've been waiting in the cold
Now my love is growing old
Lady of winter
Will you ever show me light
Or is it dark behind your white?

Winter lady crystal tears
In the shadow drawing near
Will you show me all your fear?

Staring through the ice and snow
Are you waiting for the glow
To melt the ice below?

Returning sun in the sky
Melting souls as she fades to die

Lady of winter
I've been watching in the cold
All those years I saw unfold
Lady of winter
Will you ever bring me light
Or is it dark behind your white?

I'm freezing in your night
I still wander without sight

Lady of winter
Are you longing for the burn
When the warming sun return?
Lady of winter
There is something in the air
Like a halestorm everywhere

Lady of winter
I've been waiting in the cold
And I'm growing old
Lady of winter
Will you ever bring me light
Or is it only dark behind your white?

Lady of winter
Do you ever long for spring
When the birds begin to sing?
