

Maya

Allen-Lande

Just for once, I can see it clearly, and I know
Change will come when I appear
Like a veil that's lifted from my eyes
Truth reveals itself, truth reveals itself

Silently, I will find the peace to meet the needs
Meet the needs from you and me
'Cause I know it changes with one breath
So all I do is wait, all I do is wait

I'll make a change for you to see
I'll find the power within me
I can do anything I want
All that I need is your trust, your belief in me
If you just believe in me

Rise again, if they tie me down I'll break the chains
Break the chains that's holding me
Mind wins over matter just for once
And I will be set free, no boundaries for me

I'll make a change for you to see
I'll find the power within me
I can do anything I want
All that I need is your trust, your belief in me

If you should fall, I'll be the voice to guide you
Right beside you, I hear your call
When all the world comes crashing
World comes crashing down

I'll make a change for you to see
I'll find the power within me
I can do anything I want
All that I need is your trust

I'll make a change for you to see
I'll find the power within me
I can do anything I want
All that I need is your trust
Your belief in me
In me
