

Broken

Alleviate

I'm left alone with broken bones
Let down torn apart far away from home
It's like the world is bearing down on me
And my heart is buried in concrete
Buried in concrete

I'm dried out and I feel so incomplete
Drowning in the masses and the life that's on repeat
I am deaf from the noises everywhere
The world could end, fuck it, I don't care
So that's why

I've lost control over my thoughts and my own mind
Frustration, disappointment left me blind
Too blind to see the beauty in this world
Barely alive, sore, trashed in the dirt
I've tried so hard but now I've stopped to believe in
Believe in me, so I can get off my knees
There's a mark on my soul that's beginning to crack
Will I find the strength to finally fight back?
Finally fight back!

And I am overthrown
It's like nobody knows
What I'm bearing
'Cause I'm crawling up the mountains under pain
Just to fall off the top again
I feel so alone, I feel so alone
Broken bones

I remember the times when I could feel my limbs
My dreams are made of all these long gone sweet things
It's like an echo from a distant world
Screaming my name, but left unheard

And I am overthrown
It's like nobody knows
What I'm bearing
(I'm overthrown)

And I am overthrown
It's like nobody knows
What I'm bearing
'Cause I'm crawling up the mountains under pain
Just to fall off the top again
I feel so alone, I feel so alone

Yeah, I'm left alone with broken bones
Let down, torn apart far away from home
It's like the world is bearing down on me
And my heart is buried in concrete

Buried in concrete

But no, I'm not giving in
Digging deeper to find light beneath my skin
Oh no, I'm not giving in
I'm not giving in

When the world is falling down on me
I can try to prove my worth and leave
I feel that I am strong
My heart is just not where it belongs
And I can find the sparks in my own eyes
I'm not falling apart
I'm not falling apart
I'm not done until I'm recognised

When the world is falling down on me
I can try to prove my worth and leave
I know that I am strong
My heart is just not where it belongs
And I can find the sparks in my own eyes
I'm not falling apart
Oh no, I'm not falling apart
I'm not done until I'm recognised
