

It's like the floor is breaking down and my soul is set ablaze
The world's collapsing fast, clock's ticking down its last Suffocating in madness can't take a single breath
Trapped with no exit, is this the taste death

The pain's in my chest, I can't take it anymore
I wanna scream for help but my throat is way too sore
I carry all the weight of the world on my back
Stare into the universe no stars only black

The light has left, and with it, all my hope
My mind is tangled in a web of pain, I'm trying to cope
I am raging inside my shell
I am raging inside my own hell

So here I am falling again
Pulled by gravity on end
Knowing I'm alone I'm alone
Dealing with my fucked up mind
I play pretend
To make my heart feel again
Knowing I'm alone I'm alone
Dealing with my fucked up mind

My limbs feel heavy, like they are made out of lead
I try to move, but I can't lift my head Everything flies by and nothings getting in Watching the world around me, I can't pick up the pace

I've tried everything they said - to me - but still I feel no rest
Maybe I'm better off six feet under with my heart wrenched from my chest

So here I am falling again
Pulled by gravity on end
Knowing I'm alone I'm alone
Dealing with my fucked up mind
I play pretend
To make my heart feel again
Knowing I'm alone I'm alone
Dealing with my fucked up mind

I am raging
I am raging inside my shell
I am raging inside my own hell
