

Aurora

Allie X

Left my soul on the pull out couch in Philly
Tried to leave a trail so she'd follow me back home
Blurring out the lines
Between the hyper real, and light, bright
Some would tell a vision's telling souls their time
Wasn't supposed to be for nothing

Aurora
Familiar bells are ringing
Aurora
Can you hear me singing?

And the drumroll
Set us up for failure
Left me on the red carpet
That summer I could see it bleeding
How could I pretend
When I already saw the end?
Take me back to the right bright light
Ooh, my friend

Aurora
Familiar bells are ringing
Aurora
Thirteen years till' [?]
Aurora...

Wasn't supposed to be for nothing
