Tumbling Down

Allison Moorer

What happened to the world we painted? The masterpiece of me and you
Our work of art has all but faded
Nothing's here except the blues

Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down
Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down

It was a stroke of genius Yeah, just as pretty as you please But all that's left between us Is hanging on what used to be

Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down
Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down

Looking at it from a distance I still can't believe my eyes It's sad to have to witness What we made on all those nights Crumbling down, tumbling down

Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down
Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down

Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down, oh baby
Love's crumbling
Love's tumbling down
