

Crash Test Dummy

Allison Ponthier

You cut the brakes
Why did you expect?
I hit the pedal
Almost broke my neck
All your mistakes
All my regret
Heart bends like metal
Haven't broken yet

History seems to repeat, take one for the team
I guess I'm just a martyr
I say I don't but I feel everything

I throw myself through the windshield
Just because you asked me to
Till you find a thing that feels real
I'll be your crash test dummy, I know that this is nothin' for you
I'll let you brag, just saw me before, you have somethin' to lose

Facin' apart
In our queen bed
You're sleepin' soundly
While I'm ripped to shreds
You said you had to Get it off your chest
When you do it loudly
I just stay quiet

History seems to repeat, take one for the team
Somehow it's gettin' harder
I say I don't but I feel everything

I throw myself through the windshield (Oh-oh-oh)
Just because you asked me to (Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh)
Till you find a thing that feels real
I'll be your crash test dummy, I know that this is nothin' for you
I'll let you brag, just saw me before, you have somethin' to lose

I can't take it, I
I can't take it, I
I can't take it, I
I can't take it
I can't take it, I
I can't take it, I
I can't take it, I
(I can't take it)
You cut the brakes
Why did you expect?
I hit the pedal

I throw myself through the windshield (Oh no)
Just because you asked me to (You)
Till you find a thing that feels real
I'll be your crash test dummy, I know that this is nothin' for you
I'll let you brag, just saw me before, you have somethin' to lose
