

Bewildered

Allman Brown

Cataclysms in my head at night
Spend my dreams shaking in fright
I'm lost in that inner space
Looking around for a familiar face

I'm falling through time
Pick me up my dear, spin my body round
I'm in trouble again
I don't have the words to explain how I feel
They just don't suffice
The understanding in your eyes makes me want to cry
Falling through time again

I'm bewildered most of the day
Doing my best to read the signs
Looking back through my memories
Reality starts to feel like a daydream

I'm falling through time
Pick me up my dear, spin my body round
I'm in trouble again
I don't have the words to explain how I feel
They just don't suffice
The understanding in your eyes makes me want to cry
Falling through time again
Falling through time again
Falling through time again

Everything, everywhere all at once
See it like that and the fun starts
I return to you again and again
You keep me here in the present tense

I'm falling through time
Pick me up my dear, spin my body round
I'm in trouble again
I don't have the words to explain how I feel
They just don't suffice
The understanding in your eyes makes me want to cry
Falling through time again
Falling through time again
