

The Deep Blue Silent

Allt

Have we all lost?
Have we all lost our own beliefs?
And let these shadows dance for far too long in peace

Just like a parasite
That eats us from within
We let negative emotions over and win

As the night runs ever darker
So it seems to do within
With my eyes closed
I move forward
As my feet touch the sea
It's calling me

The deep blue silent
The deep blue silent

So let me sink again
And fall into to the bottom of my hole
It calls me home
And I dream of a day when this feeling will stay
The feeling
The feeling of nothing at all

The feeling of nothing at all
The feeling of nothing at all

As the night runs ever darker
So it seems to do within
With my eyes closed
I move forward
As my feet touch the sea
It's calling me home
It's calling me home
It's calling me
