

Sea Angels

Almora

Realize the worth of your life and the worth of your dreams now and forever be free if the rules of the world hurt your heart you always keep yourself you never back from out of your way you always be brave turn your face to the sky and the moonlight always remember the magic stars never forget the colour of the sky and the angels in your heart

you raise your wings and try to fly as the angels of the sea now and forever be free, don't yield your destiny try to fly into the sky as the angels of the sea fly as the angels of the sea
