

Chasing Your Dream

Aloe Blacc

There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream
Got the sky in your reach
You can do anything
Like you're riding on a shooting star, that won't run out of steam
There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream

I wanna be where imagination can run wild
A place where every single color has a sound
Above and beyond the other side of the clouds
Whatever it takes I'm gonna go the extra mile

There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream
Got the sky in your reach
You can do anything
Like you're riding on a shooting star, that won't run out of steam
There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream

I wanna be there when time stands still just for a while
A place where upside down is not so inside out
On the edge of the universe breaking new ground
Whatever it takes you know it's worth the extra mile

There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream
Got the sky in your reach
You can do anything
Like you're riding on a shooting star, that won't run out of steam
There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream
Chasing your dream. Chasing your dream.
Like you're riding on a shooting star, that won't run out of steam
There's no time for sleep
When you're chasing your dream
