Moon Man

Aloha

We're a little lost
And I wonder how we get so close and give it up
To be human is to be terrified
Nothing scares you more than wasting time
But I made a deal so I come back

Moon man, no impact man
Innocence from another land
One made of straw the other one made of glass
Moon man, when I sing and dance
All these cunts look uncomfortable
Tears from their face, give them a taste of suffering
But their hunters only keeps them safe

And they ask about you
What was he like in high school?
I was the looker, you were the fool
Every drop of blood, beat upon the sea
Every padded face and every scream

I'll bury it inside me

Moon man, no impact man
Good kiss from way back when
One careless date for the other one said
Moon man, when I sing and dance
Comfort the comfortable
The tears from their face, and where to embrace the suffering
But they have others that will give some strife

Drunk in the green room
Change into your costume, show these people you're not you
Drunk in the green room
Change into your costume, show these people you're not bothered to live the impossible

We did our job
He put a smile on my face
We did our job
He put a smile on my face
