

Ruins

Aloha

the cupboard is bare I've been watering the fields that I should be harvesting treatments come I never turn the page months are a mistake it's like 29 days

keep my daybook clean I'm never ready to leave keep my calendar clear I'm not going anywhere

I walk in the stagnant sun a chemical reaction if there ever was one I fought the tyrannical sun
I try to forget, but your memory won
I walk among the ruins
I tried to forget but I couldn't do it the cupboards are bare I've been hunting things when I should be gathering weekends are a waste I never leave the grounds the weekend can break me it's like 24 hours

keep my good days free keep my eyes closed please to everything, everything

try to forget, but your memory won
I try to forget you, but your memory won
I walk among the ruins

I've been seeing the signs of my surrender I've got backed up & nobody can send it I've been seeing the end I've been seeing the signs of no direction got backed up & nobody can send it I've been seeing the end, seeing the end we were giants on a plywood stage in the evenings I was your household name & for a little while I knew all the words you'd say coming from the movie hold me for the credits I was just beyond camera

that never came at the end of the story
