

Sky High

Aloha

When she stains your clothes, you remember
The night and walk a little slower
Towards the flow of her words
Losing balance
No one can keep themselves grounded
When she casts spells from above
And the cut of her dress rises
And when we're in the same place
I feel her spirit is all around
Pulling my strings
How do you keep yourself so grounded?
You see me sky high
With no end in sight
I know tonight I am gone
And all I want is time
And to never hear "Good night"
You keep yourselves grounded
Get yourselves sky high
Breathe in and breathe out
That's your fire
Get yourself sky high
With no end in sight
