

Son Of The Morning

Alove For Enemies

You've tried to break us down, you failed again, so many years you've tried and failed
We put on all of our armor, never giving in to you, we stand strong together now, we will rise
You've tried to beat us down, you've failed again, we are still here, standing together
We put on all of our armor, never giving in to you, we will stand together now, we will rise
We are still here, never going back to our old ways
Standing tall, don't give up
Stand up tall, don't give up
