Help Me

Alpha Rev

It's hard to see
Through all the rain
I'm smart and real
With the world of pain
How can I be where you are

Maybe my highs are a thing I crave
Maybe my lows are just too hard to shake
There's no road signs in the dark

Well if you could help me
Just think who I could be
I'm reaching out
Is there someone reachin' back to me

When I feel alone all I see is red
A million screams goin' through my head
All these walls we build to live in

Sharing ain't my strongest suit
I do my best and open up to you
If you think it will make a difference
And if you could help me
Just think who I could be
I'm reaching out
And I need you reaching back to me

You say it's not my fault
But everything that's happening can turn beautiful
And if you were here
How could I find you lied out there
I'm looking for the, looking for the light

Just say you will help me
And say you will help me
'Cause I'm reachin' out
And I need you reachin' back to me
I'm reachin' out
And I need you reachin' back to me
