Perfect Love

Alpha Rev

Was it fear that placed what you had Underneath your bed of lies?
Was it trust or the lack of it
'Cause you've been burned too many times?

You need to know
There will never be a time, there will never be a place
There will never be a love as good as this
I will never let you go, you will never be alone
There's a perfect love

Can you talk 'cause there's a light at the end
Of the darkness that you know, you know?
Can you try to open the doors
That you closed so long ago?

You need to know
There will never be a time, there will never be a place
There will never be a love as good as this
I will never let you go, you will never be alone
There's a perfect love

We take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here, honey
We take it all and we leave it here
We take it all and we leave it here, honey
We take it all and we leave it here, hmm, you take it all

Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here

Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here

We take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here, honey
We take it all and we leave it here
Take it all and we leave it here, honey
