

Wedding Day

Alpha Rev

Blazing eyes like the sun was shining
Makes my knees go numb
You're my beginning you are my ending
My was and is to come

Every time you turn your head around
I'll be waiting for a smile from your face
Waiting for the moment you will come
Waiting for my love to come on that day
Knowing that the blame's gone
The blame's gone
But the veil is still on
Waiting for the war to end on that day

You are my fine line
You are my first time
Water ice and steam
My love come find me
Reason and rhyme me
Into the song you sing

Every time you turn your head around
I'll be waiting for a smile from your face
Waiting for the moment you will come
Waiting for my love to come on that day
Knowing that the blame's gone
The blame's gone
But the veil is still on
Waiting for the war to end on that day

Every time you turn your head around
Every time you turn your head around

Every time you turn your head around
I'll be looking for a smile from your face
Waiting for the fear to leave my heart
Waiting for the war to end on that day
Every time you turn your head around
I'll be looking for a smile from your face
Waiting for my love to come back home
Waiting for the war to end on that day
