

Conversations That Hurt

alt.

I can't replace, the steps retraced
And I am feeling nothing
Such small space, for you remains
And I know you're trying

I want you to show me something
Just give me a reason to let you in
Again

Take this chance, to wash your hands
Cause you don't owe me nothing
The distance between is all you are to me
Cause I know your trying

And I know your trying
And I know your trying

I want you to show me something
Just give me a reason to let you in
Showed up with your heart in hands just for one more chance
Like I'm someone you regret
To give me a reason to let you in
Again

Showed up with your heart in hands just for one more chance
Like I'm someone you regret
Showed up with your heart in hands just for one more chance
Like I'm someone you regret

I want you to show me something to believe in
Just give me a reason to let you in
I want you to show me something
Just give me a reason to let you in
Showed up with your heart in hands just for one more chance
Like I'm someone you regret
To give me a reason to let you in
Again
Again

Showed up with my heart in hands just for one more chance
Like you're someone I regret
To give you a reason to let me in
